Farmers' Institute.

[Reported for the Alexandria Gazette.] The Farmers' Institute of the Eighth congressional district of Virginia met at Manassas Feb. 22, 1893. After prayer by Rev. Robt. Smith, Mr. George C. Round delivered an address of welcome and was followed by Hon. S. W. Cor- LADIES', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S bin in a well prepared article on farming as a business.

Prof. A. C. Tree, of the Agricultural Department read a paper on "experi-ment stations at home and abroad," and said that if Virginia had them in the same proportion to population as France had, she would have a dozen instead of only one, but he called attention to the difference in the class of work, or manner of working between the American and European stations. which left a favorable opinion of the American. Rev. J. H. Bradford, spoke about ficial results of farming on growing boys and girls was clear profit.

Major O. E. Hine read an able and thoughtful essay on "How to make a farm of 100 acres pay." The many good things in it should be heard to be properly appreciated. He urged farmers to use honesty neatness and taste always.

He does not believe in mixing wood ashes with hen manure unless used at once.

At the afternoon session Capt. R. H. Tyler read an able essay on "How to make a farm of 500 acres pay and permanently improve its soil," and demonstrated the fact that it can be done to the satisfaction of all present.

Dr. C. W. Stiles, zoologist of bureau of animal industry, in a scientific ar-ticle treated the subject, 'The Hornfly and other Parasites."

Col. Gaines in an address urged the people to take more interest in getting the products of this district to the world's fair.

Mr. B. Canfield addressed the meeting on "Dairying."

At the evening session Mr. H. E. Van Dieman delivered an address on "Fruit Culture;" specimens of apples being shown, were pronounced by him to be the York Imperial and Newtown pippin, the latter being generally known here as the Albemarle pippin. He earnestly urged the farmers to spray their trees and plants with Bordeaux mixture. The best remedy for yellows in peach trees was to burn their root and branch, curculia so far defies all remedies. Miss Katie Hine, of Vienna, read a beautiful essay on "Floriculture," which elicited much applause.

ter which speeches were made on "The Roads," by Maj. W. M. King, Mr. B. W. Dodge, and Mr. J. F. Jackson, of the Southern Planter. The subject was well and most thoroughly handled, the speeches evidently drawing much in spiration from late personal experience on the roads. Col. A. S. Buford after speaking on the same subject, told of the State's progress in preparing for the Columbian exposition, urging the farmers to co-oparate, &c.
